

The birds and the seeds

One day some birds were flying in the sky, when suddenly they saw some seeds
on the ground.
They quickly
started coming down.

One old and wise bird tried to warn them. “A hunter may have put those seeds down so that he can catch us.” The greedy birds did not listen to him and they came down.

As soon as they came down a net
fell across
them and the birds
were trapped.

The poor birds now wished that they were not so greedy and listened to the advice.

We must not be greedy
however nice anything
looks.
